

Ministry of Justice Launches Official Website to Advance Digital Access to Justice Services MEDIA RELEASE

July 1, 2026

The Ministry of Justice is excited to announce the launch of its official website: Justice.gov.tt. This platform provides a centralised digital gateway for citizens, legal practitioners, Ministry stakeholders, and the wider public to access up-to-date information on its work, programmes, and services and engage with the Ministry.

In addition to providing official updates about the Ministry's mandate, the platform offers insight into key functional areas such as criminal justice reform, legal aid services, rehabilitation programmes, alternative dispute resolution mechanisms, and the development of justice infrastructure. Furthermore, the website will serve as a dynamic record of the Ministry's journey, showcasing our achievements, milestones, and ongoing impact over time. It also highlights the function and services of associated agencies and statutory bodies within the remit of the Ministry.

Key highlights of the website include:

- A simplified and improved user interface for easier navigation
- Full mobile and device responsiveness
- Centralised access to justice programmes and public services
- Updated information on initiatives, departments, and agencies
- Strengthened channels for public communication and engagement
- A growing library of resources, reports, and publications

The Ministry encourages all stakeholders including members of the public to explore the new website and make full use of its features. To support continuous improvement and ensure the
